COMMUNITY HOWARD BEHAVIOR HEALTH CENTER UPDATE – SFY 2020 REPORT:

Chief Operating Officer Mr. Greg Oliver presented to the Commissioners how Community Howard Behavior Health is using the money from the County to meet the needs of the community, in respect to the community mental health services. He wants to make sure the hospital is a good steward of Howard County Mental Health tax dollars. He said those dollars are being used for emergency crisis support, psychiatry, and case management skill services. This report covers the state’s fiscal year July 1st 2019 - June 30th 2020. During that period CMHC received $830,350.00 in Howard County Mental Health tax dollars. Total patients served during that time is approximately 3,100 patients. The amounts of contractual write offs for the Charity Sliding Scale is $377,000.00. This is using federal dollars that we have to use, and this is very critical for full continued care. He explained they are very excited about a couple of new housing grants they received. These housing grants will be used for re-entry people coming from the jail and will help them with housing support, utilities and security deposits etc. CMHC has collaborated with their partners to make sure that people get what they need. They also received an additional grant for $147,000.00. This grant will be used for people with severe mental health illness. CMHC has been working with Pam Isaac and others to make sure that these dollars are used in the appropriate way to keep our community safe and strong. The state of Indiana has chosen Howard County for an expansion of recovery works, which means the program can be expanded to include anyone that has a misdemeanor. Recovery Works is a program that insures that while a person is in jail they receive the help they need. In the past this program was restricted to only those with felonies. This makes the bridge easier for Sheriff Asher and his staff, Turning Point, and other service providers in the community, to get help out there so people can be successful in their treatment. Mr. Oliver stated that they have been doing several things to help the community with behavioral health issues, such as updating their web site, organizing community conversations, and arranging specialists to speak on a verity of helpful topics. The goal is to insure the community has good access to information people need. Mr. Oliver stated that care is expanding and one of his biggest concerns is the demand for staff recruitment that are licensed therapists who can meet the increasing demand. He and his staff continue to look at ways to fill this demand by inviting internships, to bring licensed therapist to our community. Just keeping the staff safe and healthy from COVID has had its challenges. Commissioner Dodd asked about the “significant mental illness” population and where the focus is in Howard County at this time. Those with significant mental illness disabilities are those who are homeless, schizophrenic, or bipolar. Commissioner Dodd is concerned about the housing, Mr. Oliver stated that he and his staff work with shelters and the community to get help. He mentioned his staff member Jeff Lipkey, who works with adults with SMI. Part of Mr. Lipkey’s role is to find housing placement for these individuals. There are shelters, and the hospital has received a Care’s Grant, which provides money to help work with local landlords for placement in housing, group homes, or transition homes. He went on to explain that there are many challenges. Some people may not want help, and some may need a skilled nursing facility. They look at each individual to make sure that each one gets the treatment they need, so that they are not on the streets or drawing the attention of law enforcement, so that they can have a life of dignity. The hospital has an outreach team that handles this. If an individual needs care, the team makes sure to reach out to them and provide the required needs. Commissioner Wyman told Mr. Oliver that the Commissioners really appreciate all of his hard work. The Commissioners also recognized the work in this area has become much smoother. The Board believes the money is being spent much more wisely. He added that the Board appreciates the partnerships CMHC is creating in our community. He thanked Mr. Oliver for his very important, comprehensive presentation which is entered in the record.
